U.S.-Peru Trade Promotion Agreement
Alabama Farmers Will Benefit

November 2007

The U.S.-Peru Trade Promotion Agreement (PTPA) provides increased market access to Alabama's agricultural exports by making agricultural trade a two-way street and leveling the playing field with respect to third country competitors in the Peruvian market. With immediate elimination of duties on nearly 90 percent of current U.S. trade to Peru, the PTPA will provide Alabama producers and exporters the opportunity not only to preserve but to increase market share in Peru. The American Farm Bureau and over 40 other agricultural industry and farm groups strongly support the agreement stating that the agreement would benefit all U.S. agricultural sectors and allow the United States to become a competitive supplier of agricultural products to Peru.

Exports of farm products boost Alabama's farm prices and income. Such exports support about 6,800 jobs both on and off the farm in food processing, storage, and transportation. Agricultural exports amounted to $572 million and made an important contribution to Alabama's farm cash receipts in 2006 that totaled $3.7 billion.

Poultry and Eggs. As the state's number one agricultural export product ($247 million) and largest provider of cash farm receipts for broilers, Alabama's poultry producers and processors benefit from the PTPA.

- Peru will provide immediate duty-free access on chicken leg quarters, which currently faces a 25-percent duty (30-percent allowed by the World Trade Organization (WTO), through a 12,000-ton tariff-rate quota (TRQ) that expands by eight percent compounded annually. Peru will phase out the 25-percent over-quota tariff over 17 years with no reductions during the first eight years.
- Peru will phase out duties on poultry products, such as wings and breast meat, over five years and on mechanically separated meat over two years. Most tariffs on turkey products will be phased out over five years.
- Peru will immediately eliminate duties on live chicks and hatching eggs and will phase out duties on eggs for consumption over ten years.
- Peru agreed to continue to recognize the equivalence of the U.S. meat inspection and certification system.

Beef. Providing the second largest source of state farm cash receipts, Alabama's ranchers and beef industry benefit from the PTPA.

- Peru will immediately eliminate the 25-percent duties (30-percent allowed by the WTO) on the beef products of most importance to the U.S. beef industry – Prime and Choice cuts.
- U.S. exporters of variety meats (offals) will immediately receive duty-free access under a 10,000-ton TRQ that will grow six percent compounded annually. The 12-percent over-quota tariff will be phased out over ten years.
- Peru will provide immediate duty-free access for U.S. exports of standard quality beef through the establishment of an 800-ton TRQ that will grow six percent compounded annually. The 25-percent over-quota tariff will be phased out over 11 years.
- The United States will phase out its beef tariffs over 15 years except for those tariffs that are already duty-free under the Andean Trade Promotion and Drug Eradication Act (ATPDEA). The PTPA will continue the duty-free treatment.
- Peru agreed to continue to recognize the equivalence of the U.S. meat inspection and certification system to its own system.
- The American Meat Institute, the National Cattlemen's Beef Association, the National Renderers Association, the U.S. Meat Export Federation, the US Hides, Skin and Leather Association, U.S. Livestock Genetics Export, Inc., and the Pet Food Institute publicly support the PTPA.

Peanuts. As the nation's third largest exporter, Alabama's growers benefit from the PTPA.

- Peru will phase out its 12-percent tariff (30 percent allowed by the WTO) on peanuts over 5 years.
- Peru will immediately eliminate the 25-percent tariff (30-percent allowed) on peanut butter.
- The United States will phase out its duties on peanuts and peanut butter over a 15-year period.
- The American Peanut Product Manufacturers publicly support the PTPA.

Cotton. As the nation's tenth largest state exporter and fifth largest source of state farm cash receipts, Alabama's cotton farmers benefit from the PTPA.

- The PTPA provides for reciprocal elimination of all cotton duties.
- Under the PTPA, Peru will immediately eliminate the 12-percent tariff (30-percent allowed by the WTO) facing U.S. exporters.
- The Peruvian market is worth almost $50 million to U.S. cotton suppliers.
